

Lotus Project: Grant Websites & Resources

The Foundation Center is available online, but it's also really worthwhile to go to the physical library—they are located in a number of cities across the country—and do their basic training in searching for opportunities. It's a great investment.	www.foundationcenter.org
The Foundation Center Online offers monthly and annual memberships. One way to use this is to subscribe for one month to find a pool of funders (remember to unsubscribe when you are finished!)	www.fconline.fdncenter.org
GrantSpy.com is a terrific e-newsletter that comes everyday. It costs a little to subscribe (about $20/month), but they send a newsletter everyday with a variety of opportunities, federal, private, and some states.	www.grantspy.com
Grants.gov sends a daily email of federal opportunities. Most of these are included in the Grantspy newsletter.	www.grants.gov
Chronicle of Philanthropy lists grant opportunities as well as what organizations have received grants and gifts.	www.philanthropy.com/giving.com
TechSoup offers nonprofits a one-stop resource for their technology needs. TechSoup by the Cup is TechSoup's free email newsletter for nonprofits and technology. Each week it delivers the best of TechSoup articles, events, message-board discussions, donated software alerts, and more (http://ga0.org/ct/Z7zcPU61oE6w/).	www.techsoup.org
Charity Channel has “Don Griesmann's Grant Opportunities” and a number of related list serves (http://charitychannel.com/enewsletters/).	http://charitychannel.com/enewsletters/dggo/
Egrants.net is a searchable Internet database of grants, contracts and fellowships in health care and medicine and a daily e-mail notification service that informs users of new grants and contracts in their specialized areas of interest – as soon as they are announced.	www.egrants.net
