In 2015, the PPHD’s clinical services were transferred to a local federally independent local health jurisdiction. The City of Pasadena, located within the San Gabriel Valley of Los Angeles, is one of only three cities in the state of California that maintains its own independent local health jurisdiction.

In 1991, the City of Pasadena Public Health Department (PPHD) in began providing HIV/AIDS medical outpatient services to HIV-infected individuals.

In 2015, the PPHD’s clinical services were transferred to a local federally qualified health center (FQHC) Wesley Health Center Pasadena.

Currently, the PPHD focuses on prevention services in HIV.

Angelica Palmeros, Erika Davies, Precious Jackson, Alex Lozano, Imelda Vasquez and Matt Feaster