SELECTED RESOURCES

The Maternal and Child Health Bureau-funded National Centers Serving CSHCN

The Catalyst Center at Boston University is dedicated to improving coverage and financing of care for children and youth with special health care needs. They create publications and products, answer technical assistance questions, research innovative state-based financing strategies, guide stakeholders to outside resources, and connect those interested in working together to address complex health care financing issues. See their website for more resources.

<http://cahpp.org/project/the-catalyst-center/>

Got Transition? Got Transition? is a national resource for health care professionals, families, youth, and state policy makers focusing on a young adult's transition from pediatric to adult health care. This site serves as the basis for an information exchange about health care transition, particularly as pertaining to youth with special health care needs.

<http://gottransition.org/>

The National Center for Family Professional Partnerships (NCFPP), a project of Family Voices, is dedicated to providing leadership in helping families and professionals partner together in decision-making by providing technical assistance to the Family-to-Family Health Information Centers (F2F HICs), Family Voices State Affiliate Organizations and other family leaders in the states and partnering with other stakeholders to improve family/professional partnership opportunities.

<http://www.fv-ncfpp.org/>

The National Center for Medical Home Implementation (NCMHI). Housed at the American Academy of Pediatrics, the overarching goal of the NCMHI is to ensure that all children and youth, including children with special needs, have a medical home where health care services are accessible, family-centered, continuous, comprehensive, coordinated, compassionate, and culturally competent.

<https://medicalhomeinfo.aap.org/Pages/default.aspx>

National Center for Hearing Assessment and Management (NCHAM). NCHAM serves as the National Resource Center for the implementation and improvement of comprehensive and effective Early Hearing Detection and Intervention (EHDI) systems. As a multidisciplinary Center, their goal is to ensure that all infants and toddlers with hearing loss are identified as early as possible and provided with timely and appropriate audiological, educational, and medical intervention.

SELECTED RESOURCES

Partnership and Collaboration

Family Voices. Family Voices is a national organization with state affiliate organizations (SAOs) dedicated to achieving culturally competent, accessible, affordable family-centered care for children and youth with special health care needs. Veteran family members provide information and support, train other family members for leadership positions on the local, state and federal levels and advocate for policies that promote high-quality, community-based services and supports for CYSHCN.

<http://www.familyvoices.org>

Data Resource Center for Child and Adolescent Health (DRC). The mission of the DRC is to take the voices of parents, gathered through the National Survey of Children's Health \(NSCH\) and share the results through this free online resource. Easy access to children's health data allows researchers, policymakers, family advocates and consumers to work together to promote a higher quality health care system for children, youth and families.

<http://www.childhealthdata.org>

National Academy for State Health Policy (NASHP) is an independent academy of state health policymakers. They are dedicated to helping states achieve excellence in health policy and practice. NASHP provides a forum for constructive, nonpartisan work across branches and agencies of state government on critical health issues facing states.
